MUSTANG CORRAL

1981

ANGELA SAXON (Sr. '81)

POSITIVE IMAGES

Positive images, the theme of the 1980-81 Mustang Corrale, reflects the attempt of the yearbook staff to focus on the many positive activities which are taking place at Roosevelt, and the positive people who are responsible for these activities. As is reflected in the above images, the positivity of one generation is necessary to inspire younger generations to high goals in life.

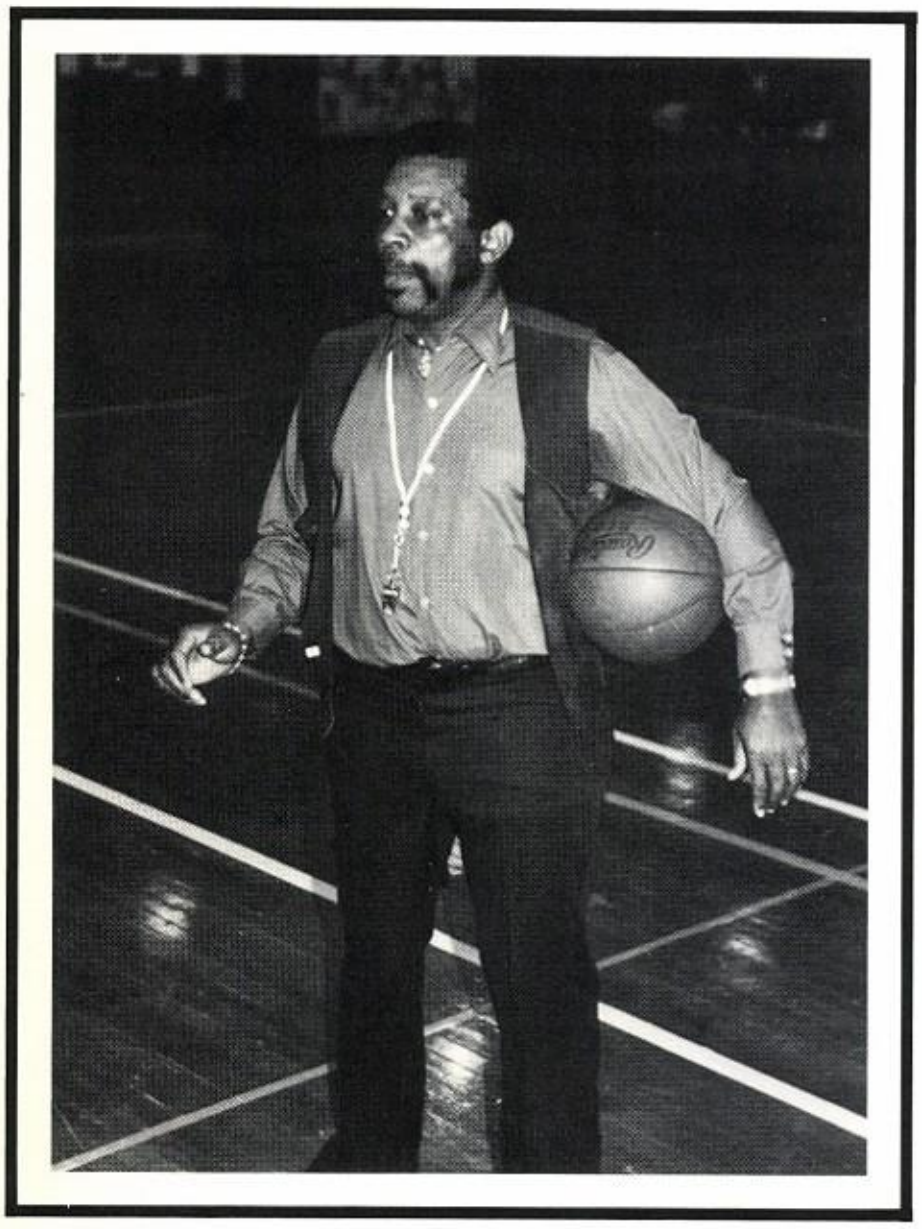
Dedicatee



WE, THE SENIORS of 1981, dedicate our yearbook to coach Ellis Davis Jr. He has been a major figure at F.D.R. since it began in 1963. He came to us from John Henry Brown Middle School and became our varsity basketball coach, assistant varsity football coach, senior chairperson, and biology teacher for numerous years. He has coached six city championship teams and the 1972 state championship team along with Two All-American players. He has been 12-AAAA coach of the year eleven times and was nominated for National Coach of the year in 1976-77.

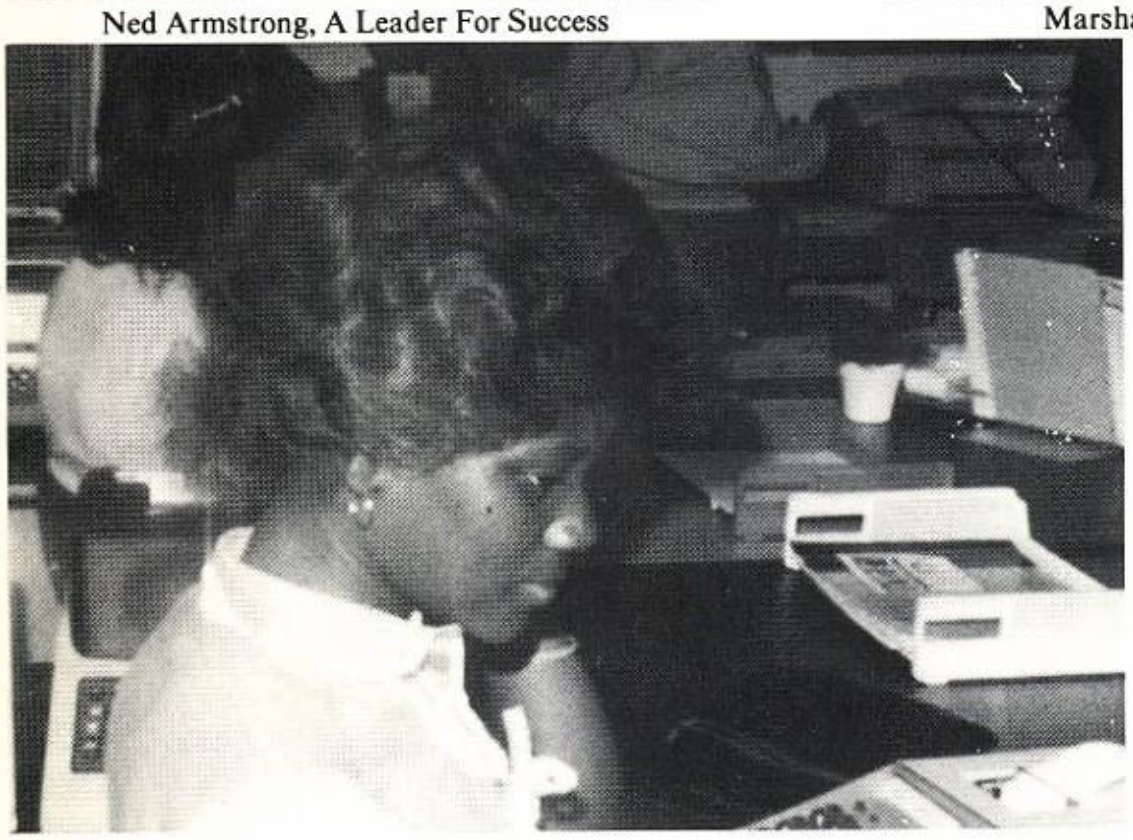
At Roosevelt We Strive to Achieve . . .

Ned Armstrong, A Leader For Success

Marshall Scarface says "There'll be no lynchings in my town."

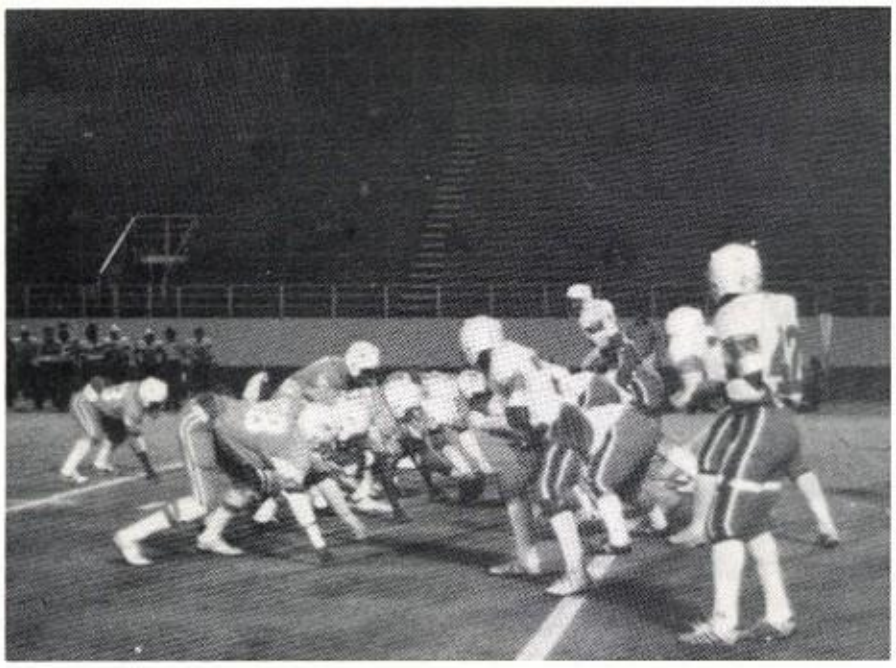


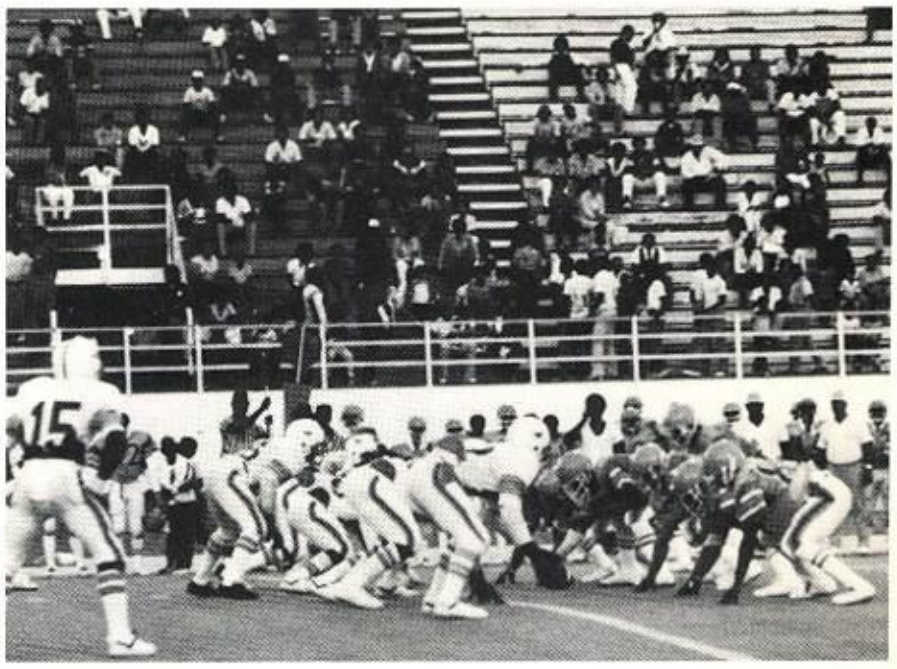
V.O.E. Program plays an important role at F.D.R.

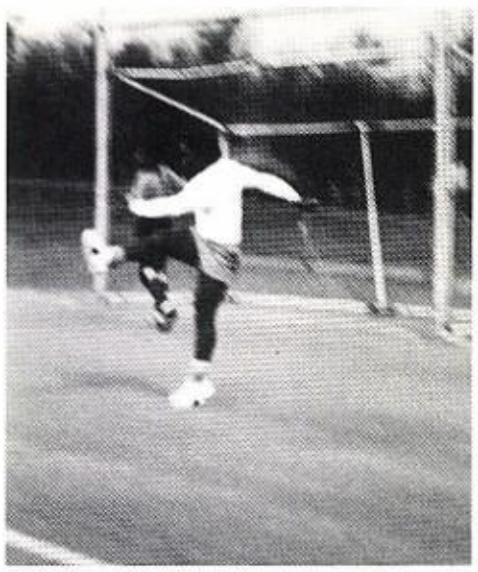
Mustangs work hard in accounting class.

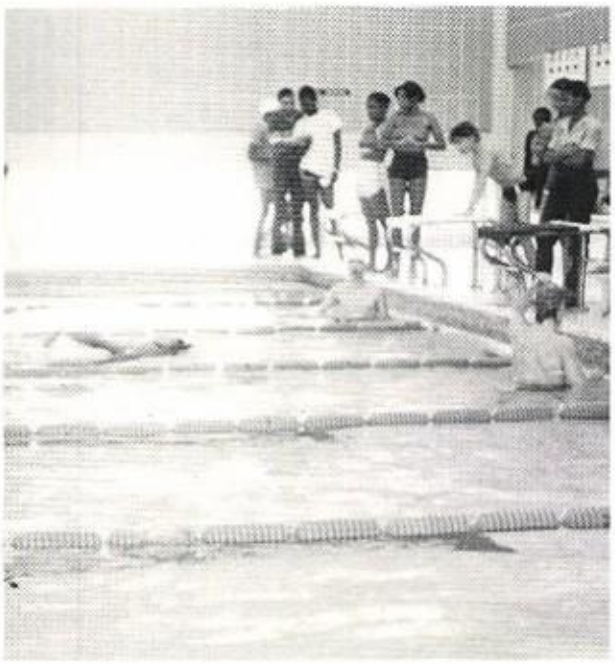
F.D.R. student, Travis Hood is eager to strive for success.

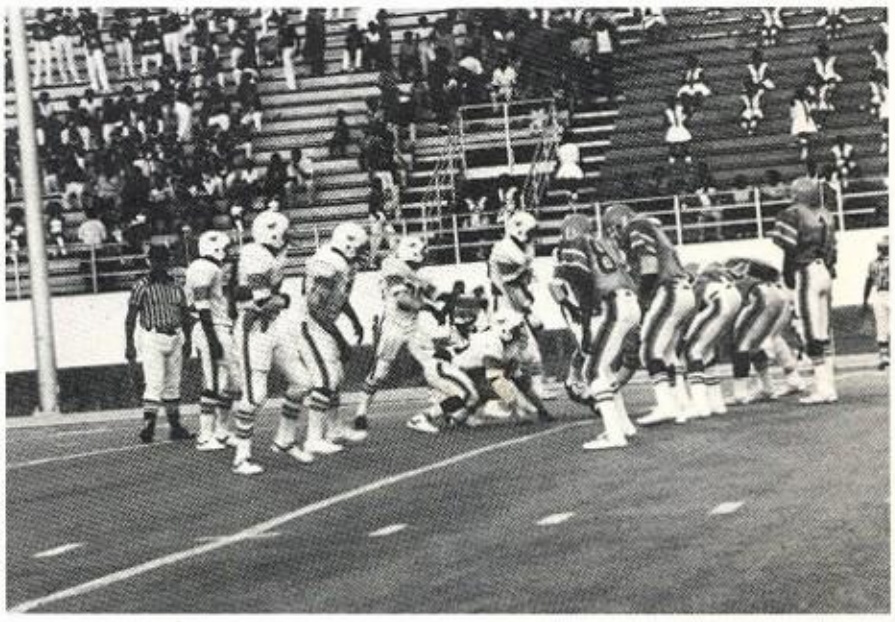
F.D.R. students seek help from a dedicated teacher.











Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm.

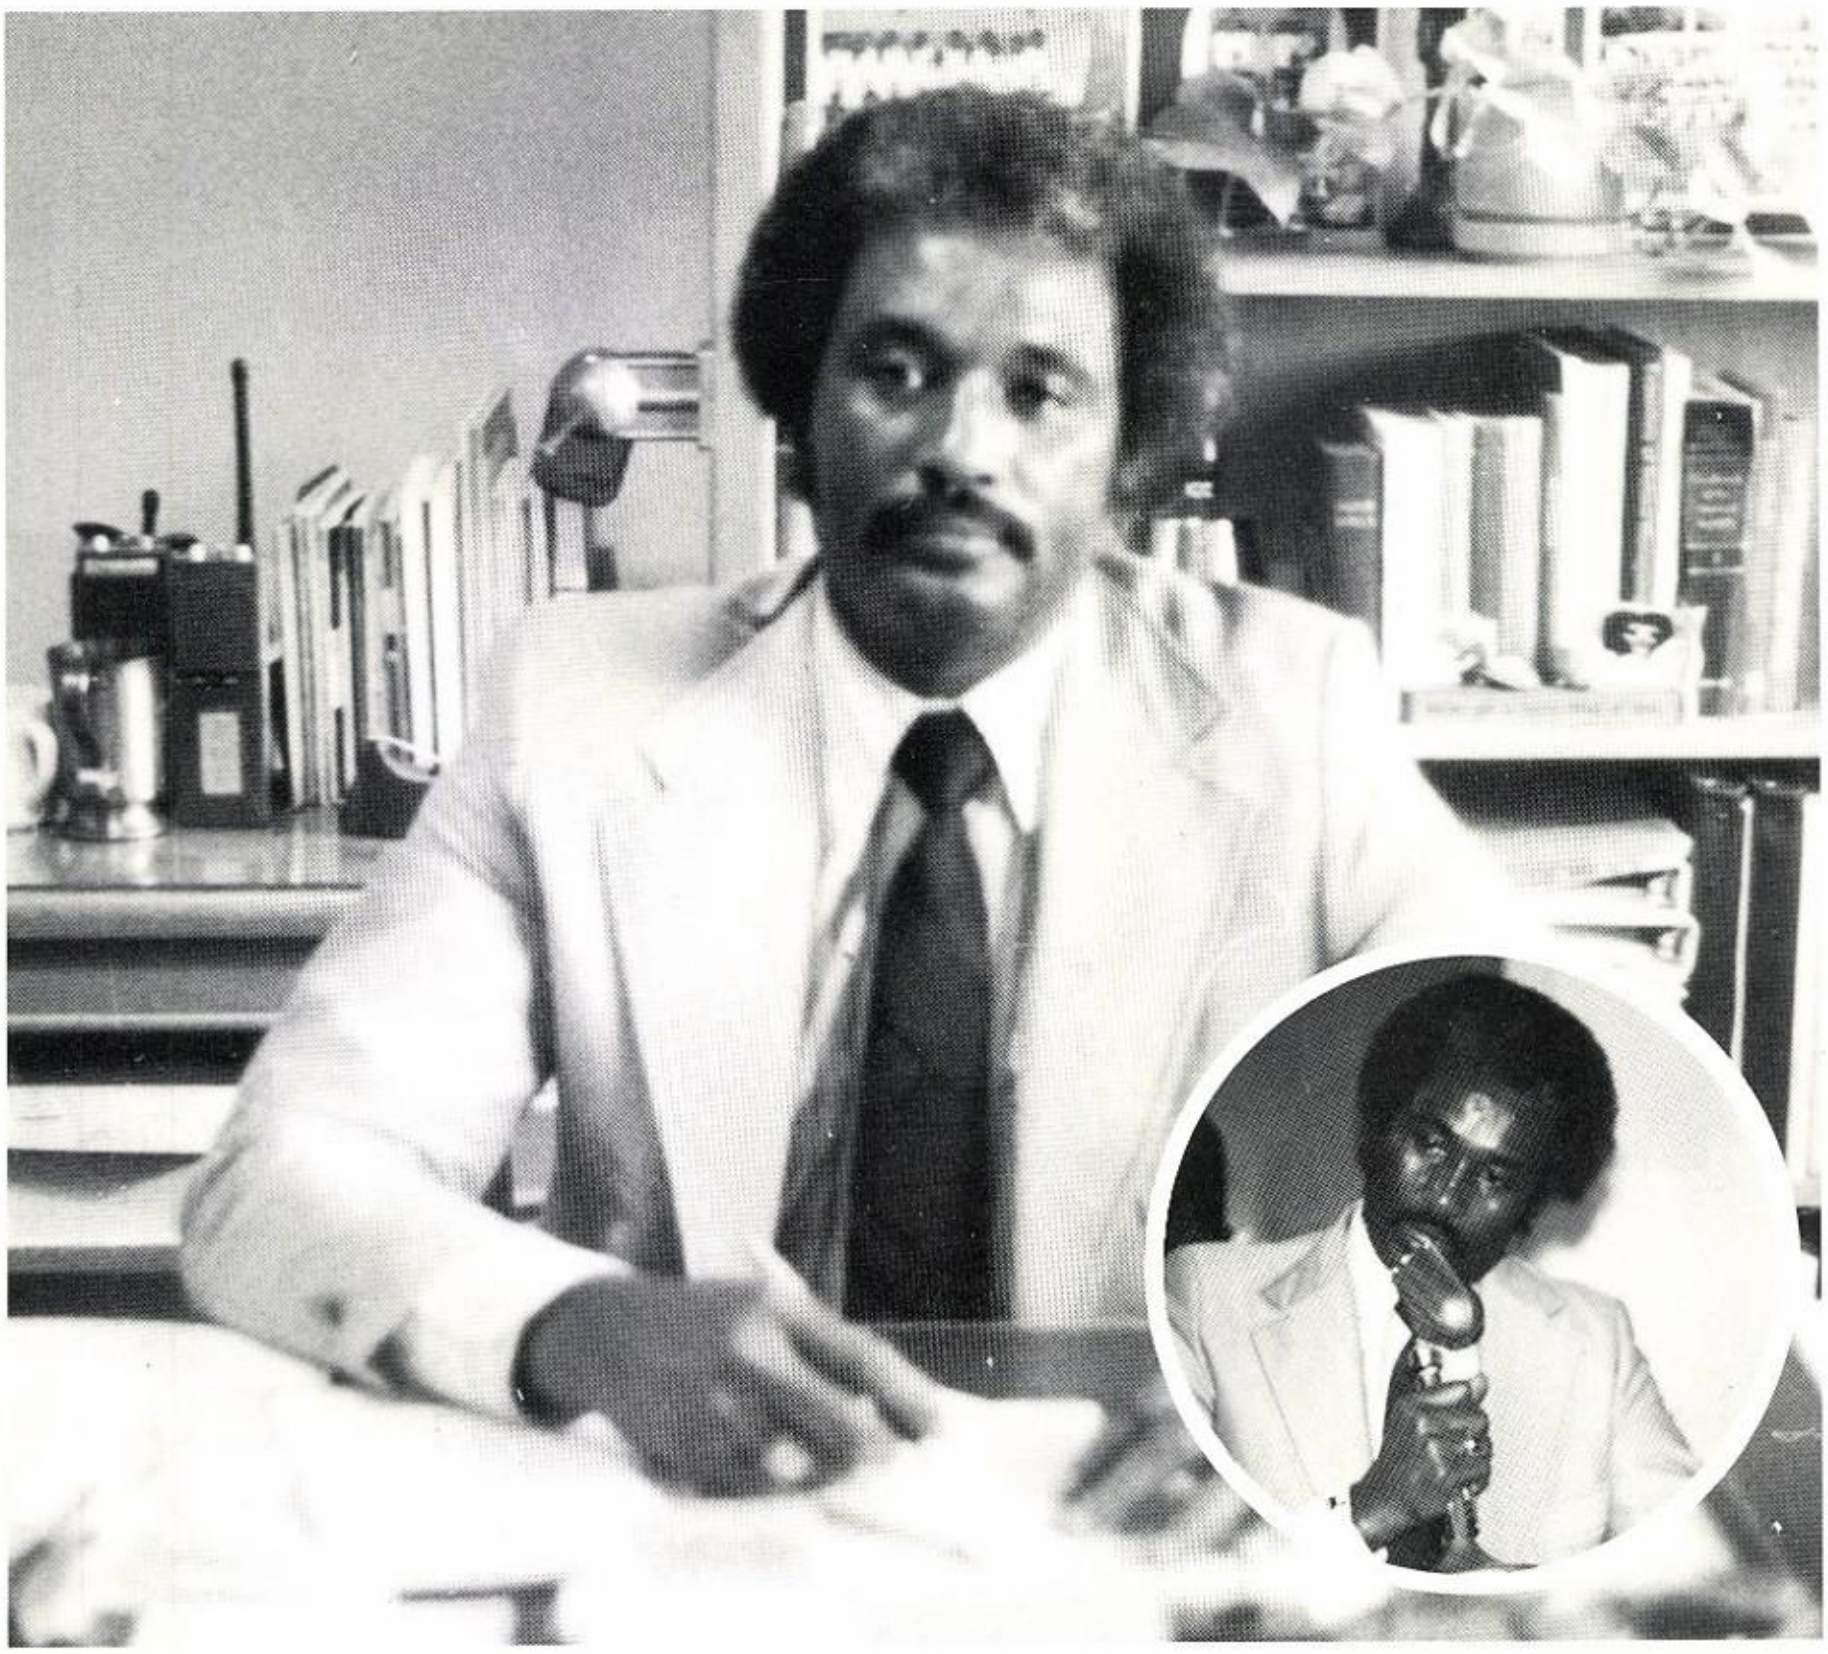
FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

Editor: Dona Bell

Our Principal Mr. Charles L. Fisher



The 1980-81 school year has been filled with a wide range of moods, events, activities and experiences. There have been happy moments, sad times, periods of depression, and periods of joy and excitement.

Amid these varied experiences, the student body is to be commended for the many positive images displayed which have contributed to the total life of Franklin D. Roosevelt High School this year. The attitudes and efforts that you have projected have done much to translate our motto, "Home of the Winners" from just an expression to a sincere and meaningful reality.

In the years to come, may your name reflect credit upon yourself, your family and recognition upon your school and community.

Mr. Lloyd speaks at an annual choir banquet.

Mr. Lloyd directed the first musical at Roosevelt "Great Expectations."

Mr. Lloyd in his favorite position.

A Special Poem . . . for a Group of Special People

A laugh . . .

A stern reproach . . .

Where are the kids who earned them?
Why, they've all gone on to greater things,
Say the teachers they left who learned 'em.

For the saying goes by them as knows, that each student's life endeavor is the product of and living proof . . .

. . . THAT A TEACHER IS FOREVER!

. . . one fine morning
I'll reach up and grab me a handful of stars
And swing out my long lean legs
And whip three hot strikes burning down the heavens
And look over at God and say
How about that!

I remember when I first saw a high school yearbook and got a look at what high school life was all about. I was about as enthusiastic about being a senior then as I was when I entered the ninth grade. Now that I have gotten to Seniorhood, I don't want to leave. But time stops for no man. So in order to preserve and keep all the precious memories of my career and yours at F.D.R., I am honored to take part in the 1981 Mustang Corral. My only regret is that the entire book can't be waterproof, so I won't stain the pages with my many tears.

Billy J. Wright
Editor

Graduation is one of the many goals and aspirations of all high school students. As time has moved on, we have prepared for the unpredictable future. As Commencement Day moves closer, the thrilling events of my past high school days fertilize my mind. In this annual lies the unforgettable memories that will always linger in my mind. It has been a vastly enriching experience for me as Co-editor of the Mustang Corral. Best wishes to you in the future.

POSITIVE IMAGES

Positive images, the theme of the 1980-81 Mustang Corrale, reflects the attempt of the yearbook staff to focus on the many positive activities which are taking place at Roosevelt, and the positive people who are responsible for these activities. As is reflected in the above images, the positivity of one generation is necessary to inspire younger generations to high goals in life.
